Smash the Military-Industrial Complex

What is the Military-Industrial Complex?

The Military-Industrial Complex (MIC) describes the close collaboration between private "defense" industry contractors and the United States Military. The term became popular during the Cold War as these contractors gained greater influence over US foreign policy. Over the next decades, the US established military bases around the world to protect capitalist interests and dominate other countries.

The US government is totally corrupted by war profiteers. In 2025, Congress passed a $1 trillion military budget, which is more than the next 9 countries combined. Candidates for office represent their corporate donors, not the will of their constituents. Government officials who play nice with the industry are guaranteed cushy jobs after they leave office.

Profiting from War

While Americans suffer from low-quality healthcare and schools, war capitalists take trillions of your taxes. From 2020-2024, the Pentagon gave $2.4 trillion dollars in contracts to private corporations. The top 5 are Lockheed Martin, RTX (Raytheon), Boeing, General Dynamics, and Northrop Grumman. Over this period, the US "defense" industry also sold weapons to 107 countries. The tech sector has jumped into this lucrative deal. Corporations like Palantir, Space-X, and Anduril were built on military contracts.

Who Cares?

The Military-Industrial Complex makes the world worse

- Its think-tanks encourage and prolong violence, such as the genocide of Palestinians or the invasion of Venezuela.
- Military spending funnels money to the richest 1%, exacerbating wealth inequality.
- The US military emits more pollution than any other institution on earth.

What Can I do?

The MIC is a part of a larger economic system where the wealthy get to make decisions about your life. Nobody can defeat the MIC alone. The Democratic Socialists of America (DSA) is building a movement to move power from wealthy war profiteers and into the hands of working people. By joining the DSA, you are taking a step towards a more peaceful world.
