Clean, Affordable Housing, NOW!

"Safe and affordable housing is an essential component of healthy communities... Low income residents may be forced into substandard living conditions with an increased exposure to mold and mildew growth, pest infestation, and lead or other environmental hazards." - BRCityKey

If you feel angry, taken advantage of, discouraged, or fearful in your housing situation, it's time to meet your neighbors and form a tenants union! By working together, you have real power to improve your living conditions.

Landlords make their money by owning. Tenants' money pays the mortgage, maintenance workers, and managers. However, rent stays the same even if the mortgage is paid off or maintenance is neglected. When tenants improve their community, landlords reap the benefits by raising rents, often to a level those same tenants cannot afford.

The majority of Baton Rouge residents (56.6%) spend 30% or more of household income on rent, and one in six households spend more than 50% of their income on housing!

In the Democratic Socialists of America, we look to the Four Principles of Social Housing to point us to a better world. These four princples are:

Sustainable and High Quality

Redistribution from Landlords

Universal Access

Democratic Control

Each of these principles are a necessary part of social housing that puts people, not capital or landlords, in control of their lives and where they live.
